

The image features three stylized female figures standing in a row against a vibrant, abstract background of horizontal stripes in blue, yellow, red, and pink. The figure on the left is a simple grey silhouette with a red triangular shape on its back. The middle figure is white with a black vertical stripe on its face and a black triangular shape on its back. The figure on the right is white with a red vertical stripe on its face and a blue triangular shape on its back. The overall style is reminiscent of Russian Constructivist art.
